

Computing

In this day and age, being able to harness the potential of the internet can be crucial when attempting to communicate with your service users. We offer a range of practical services that aim to save you both time and money whilst enhancing your organisation's communication capacity.

Cloud computing – Microsoft 365

Cloud computing enables you to store files and applications online, allowing access from any device with an internet connection in any location. We can provide you with access to Microsoft 365, a leading Cloud based system, which includes; e-mail, document storage, calendars and Microsoft Office applications.

E-bulletins

Third Sector Community Network is an online communication platform for the third sector within Dumfries and Galloway. We send out e-bulletins three times a week with a whole host of updates on:

- Funding opportunities
- News bulletins
- Events and Training

Your organisation can contribute to these e-bulletins to have your notice shared with over 500 members on the network.

Send your notices to:
admin@thirdsectordumgal.org.uk

You can join our online third sector community at:

Designing & Maintaining a Website

Create a positive impression

A website can make your organisation look professional, reliable and attractive to clients, volunteers, partners and funders. This means that information regarding your organisation is easily accessible to anyone with access to the internet.

Our website design service offers a range of possibilities to meet the needs of your organisation from basic designs with text based web pages, to more complex designs with embedded forms, multimedia etc.

From conception to completion, we will support you to build a website which is just right for you. We can then teach you how to maintain your website to enable you to update it as and when your organisation develops.
